Dear Fathers and Brothers,

Let me share an incident that happened in the life of Saint Faustina, known as the Missionary of Divine Mercy. Once Sister Faustina learned that a guest was coming to their convent who was very special to her. Hearing the news, she was overjoyed. She was assigned the duty of decorating the parlor. She spent more time in the garden picking the best flowers to decorate. As she moves in with the flowers, Jesus approaches her (We know that Jesus often appeared secretly to Faustina).

“Where are you moving so happily with the flowers?”, Jesus asked.

“Jesus, don’t you know, there’s a special person coming here today. It’s my responsibility to prepare the bouquet in the parlor.”

“I know everything. I have been noticing your happiness from the moment I heard the news today. How carefully you collected the flowers? I didn’t see such a care and happiness when you decorated the flowers at the Altar yesterday?”

Later, Sr. Faustina wrote about the incident in her diary:

“Though Jesus is my dearest, my attention goes to many things above Jesus. He reminded me that nothing should be more precious than Him.”

Dear fathers and brothers,

This little incident in Faustina’s life is perhaps not new to us.

However, this incident sheds light on the importance of our consecrated life.

It is appropriate to think about whether, at least sometimes in our priestly life, our attention is diverted from Christ to many other things. Pope Francis once said in his message to the consecrated people:

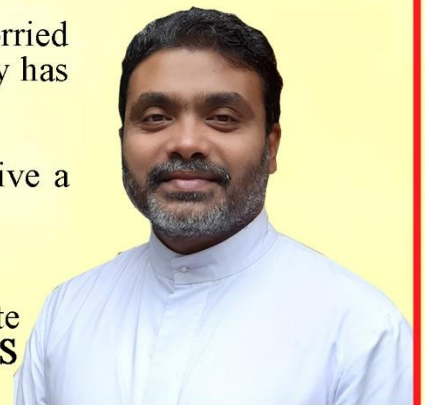

“A temptation that every Christian, including religious, experiences is that of seeing life in a ‘worldly way’ rather than focusing on God’s grace at work. When that happens, people go off in search of something to substitute for it: a bit of fame, a consoling affection, finally getting to do what I want. Let us realize that we become blind if we do not look to the Lord every day.”

Let’s not forget that we have dedicated our life to Christ and our focus should be on Christ more than the anything else. Let us pray for the 11 seminarians of La Salatte Bhavan, who have accepted the call to the priesthood and all the other brothers in formation and their formators.

Let us remember the words of Jesus: “Martha, Martha, you are worried and distracted by many things; there is need of only one thing. Mary has chosen the better part.” (Lk 10:41-42).

May God bless us to choose the best part of our daily life to live a Christ-centered life.

Yours in Our Lady of La Salette
Fr. Jenson Chenthrappinny MS
