Dear Brothers,

Grace and peace to you in the joy of our Risen Lord!

With hearts renewed by the power of the Resurrection, I greet you all with joy and thanksgiving in this holy Easter season. The tomb is empty, the stone has been rolled away, and Christ, our hope, lives! His victory over death fills our lives with light, and His promise assures us that no darkness can overcome those who walk with Him. This sacred mystery is not merely the conclusion of the Paschal Triduum—it is the ongoing reality that defines our identity, shapes our mission, and renews our commitment to God and to one another.

This Easter, our Province has been especially blessed. We witnessed the joyful and faith-filled celebration of the First Profession of our brothers who have now taken their first vows. I rejoice with them and thank God for their generous and courageous response to His call. Their decision to embrace this life of consecration is a powerful sign of hope and a testament to the enduring power of God's love at work in attentive hearts. May their journey be filled with grace, guided by wisdom, and sustained by prayer.

We also give thanks for the Renewal of Vows by four of our brothers, whose continued "yes" offered in faith and trust is a bright witness in a world that often discourages lasting commitments. Each renewal is a proclamation of fidelity—not only to the life we have embraced, but to the One who first called us. Their perseverance invites all of us to reflect more deeply on our own commitment, to rekindle our passion for mission, and to be continually formed by the Spirit.

In addition to these joyful events, we are blessed that the Council of the Congregation is now taking place, bringing together the Superior General, his council and Provincial and Regional Superiors from across our La Salette family in a spirit of communion and discernment. This gathering is a sacred time to reflect on our shared mission, to engage the challenges before us, and to listen together to how the Spirit is calling us forward. Let us accompany our leaders with our prayers during these days, asking the Lord to bless their conversations with wisdom, openness, and unity in the Spirit.

In these grace-filled moments, I see a Province alive with hope—signs of new growth, quiet perseverance, and faithful service. I thank each of you for the witness of your life and your dedication to our mission. Your presence, your prayers, and your quiet sacrifices are the heartbeat of our community.

This Easter season calls each of us to rise anew with Christ—to embrace our mission with joy, to deepen our prayer and community life, and to reflect the light of the Resurrection in all we do. Let us be men of hope, ready to proclaim with our lives that Christ is alive, and that His love changes everything. Let us continue to build a community marked by mutual support, discernment, and shared mission.

May Mary, our faithful Mother, accompany us with her tender care. And may the joy and promise of Easter remain ever alive in our hearts.

Wishing you all the blessings of this Easter season,

In Our Lady of La Salette,

Fr. Baiju Avittappally MS
Provincial Superior
